Alarm Procedures:

1. Alarm Testing: It is the responsibility of all alarm users to promptly notify their alarm monitoring company that a test will be performed prior to the test. If this is not done and the police are dispatched, you will be charged for a false alarm.
2. Accidental Alarm: If the alarm system is accidentally activated the alarm user must notify their central station alarm monitoring company, and cancel the alarm using the pre-established procedure. If this is not done and the police are dispatched, you will be charged for a false alarm.
3. Malfunctioning Alarm System: It is the responsibility of the alarm owner/user to promptly notify their alarm company in the event of any malfunctions in the alarm system. Alarm owner/users must take the appropriate action to prevent multiple false alarms from occurring due to malfunction. In these cases, alarms must be disabled and repairs made, prior to re-activation.
